How do I get started?

“ This partnership will be a true win-win-win for ProShip, ShipMatrix, and all customers looking to enhance their logistics business operations. We are excited to align with a world-class company to provide a much-needed solution in the marketplace.”

— Satish Jindel, Founder and President, ShipMatrix

“ While many multi-carrier platforms try to be everything to everyone, ProShip knows our sweet spot lies in perfecting the core of shipment execution. That's why we partner with best-in-class experts like ShipMatrix. By focusing on what we do best and collaborating with specialists in other areas, we empower our customers with a fully integrated, best-of-breed parcel solution. It's a strategic approach that ensures our customers have access to the most powerful and agile tools the market has to offer, without the bloat or compromise.”

— Bill Schroeder, President, ProShip

Who is ShipMatrix?

ShipMatrix, started in 2000, was the first to help shippers leverage the billions in information technology being spent by the parcel carriers for improvement of their own shipping operations to reduce cost and improve service to their customers.

ShipMatrix is staffed by people who played a critical role in the successful startup of RPS (now FedEx Ground) and have influenced many of the changes in the parcel industry including guaranteeing the ground service in 1998.
