CHALLENGE

Mason Companies, known for their multiple catalogs and online presence, has over hundreds of thousands SKUs and ships from three separate distribution centers. They knew that if they wanted to grow, they needed a faster, more robust and more reliable shipping system.

SOLUTION

The transition over to ProShip went smoothly, and Mason now has more control over their shipping environment. ProShip is used in their distribution centers, call center and for all product labeling. Today Mason Companies has the capability to automatically rate shop carriers and their service levels against each other and automate the packaging process with the combination of ProShip Software and the CVP Automated Packaging Solution, saving them significant dollar(s) on every package shipped.
